

Bulgarian Attacks Repulsed By Allies With Heavy Losses

Bodies of Dead Soldiers Lie Among Red Holly Berries From Forest Near Strumnitz

COLD WEATHER INCREASES WAR HORROR

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPPARD
United Press Staff Correspondent

Salonika, Dec. 6th (Delayed)—A furious battle is being fought on the Christmas holly wood near Strumnitz. The Bulgarians have been attacking the Anglo-French positions since early Saturday. Their attacks thus far have been repulsed with heavy losses.

I visited the French and British fronts along the Serbian and Bulgarian frontiers Friday night and Saturday. The mountainous hills were topped with batteries. The big British guns were sending shells screaming eight miles across hills a mile high. The big hills shook with a dull roar. Everywhere the light artillery seemed superior.

The allied losses have been comparatively light. Lying among the red holly berries are the bodies of Bulgarians, French and a few British covered with blood. The Bulgarians broke through several times in wild charges screaming like demons. In sudden clashes with French zouaves they met their fate. In three distinct encounters they were caught by the French cold steel, and either stabbed to death or fled back to their lines at the mercy of the British guns.

Extreme cold weather is increasing the horrors of war on the Strumnitz sector. Several men on outpost duty have been found frozen to death. The wounded suffer agonies if they are not dragged to the rear at once. At night it is so cold that eggs burst through their shells and packs of howling wolves prove the hills despite the pounding of the big guns.

Back of the firing line the whole region has a ghastly look. The soldiers' tents, their wagons, automobiles and horses are decorated with sprigs of holly. Overhead fly flocks of wild ducks. They pass unharmed the soldiers having been ordered not to shoot them. I spent several hours beside a soldiers' camp fire in the Strumnitz region Saturday. French soldiers sat about talking of past Christmas in France and wondering what Christmas will be like at home this year. To a home sick American lad this was refined torture. "Damn the holly," he exclaimed. "I would like to be home." His body they told me the next day was one of those found among the holly shrubs.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION LAST WEEK FINE SUCCESS

Center M. E. Church Oldest Methodist Church in County

The celebration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Centre Methodist church which was an event of last week was one of interest and success through and can only be realized in this respect by those who participated in the several services.

Centre as a Methodist church has a history dating back to the year 1815 when it was made a part of the District Eagle circuit which makes it the oldest active Methodist church also the landmark of Methodism in Clearfield county, and one of the results of the celebration was a determination on the part of the friends of the church to maintain it as such, not disregarding the religious requirements of the surrounding community.

There was a general response to the invitations extended which made possible the reunion of a large number of former pastors, members and friends of the church. Much could be said of the good things which were said and done, but time and space will not permit. Each service was brim full of blessings and encouragements and much was done to inspire the present generation on towards a more glorious future for the church. Sunday the 6th was designated as a repetition of the early days of the church. The morning service consisted of an old fashion love feast followed by baptism and an inspiring sermon by one of the older ministers of the church. A large number of people brought their offerings with them and the newly renovated basement was placed at their disposal. The devotional services of the afternoon and evening were exceptionally impressive and inspiring.

TEMPERANCE FORCE OF COUNTY HOLD ANNUAL SESSIONS

Temperance League Formed to Make Fight Against Liquor Next Year

Dr. Buckingham of Mahaffey Elected President of New Organization—Other Officers Elected and Committees Chosen.

Yesterday the annual convention of the temperance forces of the county was held in the Y. M. C. A. building on Second street at which meeting a permanent organization, called the Temperance league, was formed, the purpose of which, as stated by the temporary chairman, Rev. R. C. Peters, president of the Clearfield County Anti-saloon league, is to organize the Temperance forces throughout the county, to secure delegates to vote for the local option law and to remonstrate against the granting of licenses at the next license court.

At the morning session, Rev. C. A. Brant, of Altoona, District Superintendent of the Anti-saloon league, delivered an address before the convention on "The Achievements of the Temperance Workers." In part Mr. Brant said "That every generation and age has some peculiar work of its own to perform. The following problems of this country since its foundation, have had to be solved by the citizens, settlement, organization, slavery and the abolition of slavery and finally temperance, which is the work of the present generation. After solving the temperance problem, comes the work for the human race."

In order to more scientifically carry on their work, the temperance forces have formed the Prohibition party, the W. C. T. U., the Anti-saloon league and now a Temperance league, which combines all three into a single organization. Of these the W. C. T. U. has accomplished the greatest work as they have been instrumental in making a subject the study of the efforts of alcohol in the public schools of the country.

At the afternoon session the new Temperance league of Clearfield county was formed and officers elected. Rev. Peters of the Eleventh street M. E. church presided at the meeting.

The following officers for the Temperance league were elected: President, Dr. H. W. Buckingham, of Mahaffey; First vice president, J. S. Reitz, of DuBois; Second vice president, J. M. Laurie, of Windom; Third vice president, J. L. Weaver, of Burnside; secretary, Wellington V. Clark, of Mahaffey; treasurer, G. Chas. Hill, of Clearfield.

The following committees were appointed: Nominations, A. L. Moulton, of DuBois; Rev. O. B. Poulson, of Wallacetown; Mrs. Trexler, of DuBois.

Constitutions, Mrs. Garner, of Curwensville; Oscar Mitchell, Esq., of Clearfield; W. Irving Lewis, secretary Y. M. C. A., Clearfield.

Organization of Districts, H. A. Reed, of Mahaffey; Fred Spencer, of DuBois; John McMurphy, of Clearfield.

Finance, James Mitchell, Rev. Irvin, James Mills, of Ramsey.

Legislative candidates, J. F. Reese, of DuBois; Dr. Buckingham, of Mahaffey and Rev. O. B. Poulson, of Wallacetown.

FOUR REA BROTHERS FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT TUESDAY

Case of J. J. Lehman and Mother Charged With Inhuman Treatment of Boy

James Realle of DuBois Charged With Larceny, had Hearing Yesterday—No Verdict Rendered Yet.

Yesterday afternoon in Criminal court, the jury found guilty, Austin Rea, John Rea, Enos Rea and Park Rea, four brothers of Knox township, near Boardman, of assault and battery. The brothers were brought into court by Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Coder, neighbors of the boys.

The indictment charges the boys with trespassing on Coder's land after he had ordered them not to use a path which they were accustomed to use. One evening in September, the brothers were going down this path and were ordered back by the owner, but the boys refused to obey and a fight was started in which Coder was badly beaten and also Mrs. Coder, who had come to her husband's aid was slightly injured.

The case was one of the most important assault and battery cases which has come up before the local court in recent years and it took nearly the entire day to argue it. The defendants have not yet been sentenced by Judge Bell.

Last evening the case of Frank Reilly, charged with stealing about $85 belonging to a man by the name of Powers, from a box car, in which two men lived, near DuBois, was brought up. The case occurred last October. The defendant claims that he found the money on the car floor, and when arrested offered to give one half of it to Powers, but Powers refused to settle in this manner. The verdict has not yet been brought in.

This afternoon, J. Josiah Lehman and his mother, of Monarch Mines, will be brought before the court, charged with cruel and inhuman treatment to the three year old son of Mr. Lehman. The case was brought to court by J. W. Beach, humane agent of Pennsylvania and Mrs. Helen Davidson, who saw the child being cruelly treated, on November 15. The child, beside numerous bruises on all parts of the body, was scalped, leaving a sore the size of a man's hand on his head, and also injured in the back ad kidneys to such an extent that the boy can hardly walk.

It has developed that the boy's mother and father separated while living in Illinois, before coming to this county, leaving the son in care of the father. Jealousy between the grandmother and the father over the custody of the boy, has been given as the reason for the treatment, both grandmother and father taking their spite out on the three year old.

It is expected that the two defendants will be dealt with according to law and severely punished for their actions. The child at present is at the Children's Aid society home on Spruce street, where his injuries are receiving the proper medical attention.

SECRETARY M'ADOO GIVES ANNUAL REPORT TO CONGRESS

Financial Resources Greatest in History and Banking System Greatest in World

Domestic Demand For Steel Greater Than Foreign Demand—Income Tax may be Increased on Smaller Incomes.

Washington, Dec. 8.—(By United Press).—A sweeping declaration of American financial stability was made by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in his annual report to congress today.

"Our financial resources are the greatest in our history and our banking system, through the operation of the Federal Reserve system is the strongest in the world," he said. Commenting on business conditions the secretary declared one of the most encouraging features was that the demand for iron and steel products is heavier from domestic than from foreign sources.

Among recommendations made is one that persons having a gross income of $3,000 or more a year shall pay an income tax. The law at present provides for net incomes of that amount, leaving it to the individual to determine whether his net income is $3,000 or more. The report does not mention other income tax law changes suggested by the secretary in a recent statement.

Indicating the fight to be made on the so-called pork measure, the omnibus public buildings bill, the secretary advances arguments for its discontinuance. He cites bad public building conditions in many cities.

He supports the idea of government treatment of drug addicts by the Public Health Service or other government agency, and suggests that the Harrison anti-narcotic act be made more stringent.

Concerning the Public Health Service, the secretary urges upon congress the necessity for more commissioned medical officers and larger public health field investigation. He points out that the United States is the only country which does not provide for the isolation and care of lepers. There are approximately 146 lepers in the United States, he states, and congress is urged to pass a bill introduced at the last congress, for a national leprosyarium.

Plans are being worked out by the Coast Guard and Navy, the secretary says, to make the former organization a valuable auxiliary to the navy in time of war.

The secretary also calls attention to the saving effected by the treasury's innovation of shipping money by parcel post rather than by express. He recommends increasing the salaries of assistant secretaries from $5,000 to $7,500. The present salary, the secretary points out, makes it necessary for men of the caliber desired to sacrifice themselves financially to the position.

COMMUNITY CENTER OF FUTURE WILL BE THE RURAL CHURCH

Gifford Pinchot and President Wilson Expected to Speak Before Conference

Rural Churches to be Strengthened by New Plan Proposed at Convention—Ohio to be Experimental Field For New Church Reform.

(United Press Correspondence.)

Columbus, Dec. 8.—To make the rural church in America not only the religious, but the social, commercial and agricultural center for the farmer and his wife and children, is the object of a conference here today between Gifford Pinchot, agricultural educator, churchmen, farmers and others meeting with the Federal Council of Churches and the National Commission on Church and Rural Life. President Wilson is expected to address the convention December 10, the last day, discussing his ideas of rural credits, one of the big questions with which congress is expected to deal this year.

Gifford Pinchot, who is chairman of the commission, in his address before the conference today, said in part:

"I believe we stand today on the threshold of a great movement which will bring back to the church in the country and smaller towns the greater power for good it used to have. I do not contend that the church should take the functions of the Grange or the agricultural school, but I believe the failure of the country churches, through their ministers, to get into productive touch with the work and needs of the country people is one of the fundamental reasons for the present weakness of the country church. Good farms, good roads, good schools are necessary to the success of churches and active churches should assist powerfully in securing such material improvements."

"We are not here to advocate the weakening or strengthening of any one denomination at the expense of another; nor have we any theory to exploit or any ax to grind. We merely seek the truth about conditions, together with remedies that are both wise and practicable."

Ohio has been selected as a field for the first intensive rural church reform campaign. A survey by the state shows that 800 of the 5,000 Ohio country churches have been abandoned, one third are growing, while two thirds have ceased to grow or are dying. Eighty-three per cent. of them have a membership of less than 100 each. Only six per cent. have individual preachers, the others having from one half to one sixth of some minister's time.

The plan is to combine the strength of these country churches and establish at the logical points, community churches which, in addition to being houses of worship on Sunday, will be expected to be active in promoting good roads, scientific farming, public health and sanitation, temperance, public recreation, community beautification, better schools, library organization and other things of that sort.

It is the belief of the leaders of this movement that the average country minister is underpaid and often needs wider practical experience and training. Among those on the program today were:

Dr. Washington Gladden, Columbus; Dr. W. F. Richardson, Kansas City; Prof. Edwin L. Earp, Madison, N. J.; Dr. Alva W. Taylor, Columbia, Mo.; Dr. S. K. Mosiman, Bluffton, O.; Dr. Ward Platt, Philadelphia; Albert E. Roberts, New York; Miss Jessie Field, New York; President W. O. Thompson, Ohio State University, Columbus; Rev. Hubert C. Harding, Boston, and Rev. E. A. Hutchison, Pittsburgh.

Paris, Dec. 8. (By United Press).—That England, against the wishes of her allies, favors the withdrawal of the expeditionary forces from the Balkans was strongly hinted during today's session of the allied war council. A high French official said in this statement: "If England persists alone in favoring leaving only the remainder of the allied forces to continue to aid the Serbs."

Sir John French, British commander in chief, is understood to have brought the suggestion that the Balkan campaign be abandoned to the allied war council which held its 10th meeting today. It is said to have met with opposition not only from General Joffre, but from other representatives. It has been known in France for some time that the land was far from satisfied with the facts in the Balkans. Several members in English parliament called the Salonika expedition useless, but that it arrived too late and the number of troops was too small to be of any aid to the Serbians.

PEACE PARTY WILL OPPOSE OF PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

Aboard Peace Ship Oscar II—The Wireless to Cape Race; Dec. 8.—The Ford peace voyagers will wireless President Wilson their opinion of the message he read to congress yesterday as soon as they can reach an agreement. Radical peace advocates are urging that the peace party denounce the President's preparedness program and assail him as a reactionary. The conservatives are opposed to criticizing the President. There are symptoms that Ford is converting some of the skepticism on board to his peace program. Ford has broadened the scope of his activities. He says that he is determined to end not only the war in Europe, but industrial warfare. Details of his plan are being awaited with interest.

REPORTED VICTIM OF SUB ARRIVES AT ALEXANDRIA

Officials Believe Ship of Similar Name Was the Victim

New York, Dec. 8. (By United Press).—The Standard Oil steamship Communipaw reported in Rome dispatches to have been sunk by a submarine, arrived at Alexandria on Sunday, according to a cablegram received by the New York office today. The cable was signed by the Standard Oil agent at Alexandria. It stated merely that the steamer had arrived. It was said at the local office, and gave no intimation that she had been attacked by a submarine.

Shipping circles believe either that the Communipaw was attacked and succeeded in making port or that another ship of a similar name was a victim of the submarine. It was pointed out that the Communipaw may have escaped after first sending out wireless signals that she was being attacked by a submarine.

Washington, Dec. 8. (By United Press).—The state department received a cablegram from Ambassador Page at Rome saying a vessel believed to be the Communipaw has been torpedoed and sunk. Explanations concerning the attack, the position of the Communipaw and the submarine which made the attack were lacking. No details were given. American consuls throughout the Mediterranean region were expected to report details of the vessel's disappearance as soon as possible the state department announced today.

If Henry blows in that million refreathering the look out for war prices in Ford's.

If this weather keeps up, Old Saint Nick will have to abandon the sled in favor of a jitney bus.

You gotta hand it to the fellow who can break with the girl between now and December 26.

If the President reasoned along the lines of cause and effect, he would put a per capita tax on Democrats for the cause of the treasury deficit.

Most people check off their obligation to charity when they drop a dime into a beggar's hat. Slender that ceremony becomes a neighborly duty.

The man who doesn't need to advertise when business is good is the same identical chap who can't afford to advertise when business is rotten. Think it over, think it over.

Democrats would rather not be asked what condition the country would be in now if the European war had not come to the rescue with the makings of a prosperity wave.

THE COMMON SENSE OF IT

Have you ever been in the Christmas week rush at a department store or any other big store, when it seems that half the city is trying frantically to crowd into a few short days the shopping which with a little forethought could have been extended over almost the entire month of December? It is the most distressing sight imaginable. Men, women and children, each imbued with the idea that he or she is in a hurry to get nowhere in particular, an idea seemingly habitual with city people, clashing because a stoop-shouldered and wearied clerk cannot give instant attention and faultless service. Normally sane people who are really in no hurry, seem suddenly to lose their poise as the nervous ones of the crowd exclaim and fidget, and join heedlessly in the mad scramble to buy, buy, buy, gifts which are to be bestowed with a sentimental feeling which takes no account of the distress caused in their purchase. From a study of individual procrastination, the final scene develops into one of the mob psychology, in which Madam Vere de Vere offers no striking contrast as to method to Maggie O'Hara, with her week's wages clutched nervously to her bosom.

Clearfield's salespeople and storekeepers are hopeful that such conditions will not prevail here. There is time in plenty for Christmas shopping, and this year the offerings of the stores are in wonderful variety for early buyers. As the time grows shorter for completing shopping lists, the opportunity narrows for getting the things you want. Therefore, the common sense of it is to shop now, for the sake of your own satisfaction only. We are not disposed to consider the overworked people who will have to attend to your wants during the last days of the season.

Shop early—shop NOW.

ENGLAND OPENS TRAINING SCHOOL FOR WAITERS

(United Press Correspondence.)
London, Nov. 2.—(By Mail.)—The war is going to work a revolution in the status of the waiter, according to G. B. Sims, secretary of the British Hotel Restaurant and Club Employers Society. Heretofore London has depended largely upon aliens for table service. While the French and Italians furnished some, the Germans and Austrians were responsible most of all.

To replace these the society has opened a training school for waiters. There has always been a shortage of English waiters in the past and it was this that brought about an influx of foreigners. By changing the whole status of the waiter and making the occupation a more desirable one, the society hopes to secure enough English followers of the vocation to keep out aliens following the close of the war.

ENGLAND OPENS TRAINING SCHOOL FOR WAITERS

(United Press Correspondence.)

London, Nov. 2.—(By Mail.)—The war is going to work a revolution in the status of the waiter, according to G. B. Sims, secretary of the British Hotel Restaurant and Club Employers' Society. Heretofore London has depended largely upon aliens for table service. While the French and Italians furnished some, the Germans and Austrians were responsible most of it.

To replace these the society has opened a training school for waiters.
There has always been a shortage of English waiters in the past and it was this that brought about an influx of foreigners. By changing the whole status of the waiter and making the occupation a more desirable one the society hopes to secure enough English followers of the vocation to keep out aliens following the close of the war.

STEPS TAKEN TOWARD THE ELIMINATION OF BROKERS

Mid-West Farmers Will Market Their Own Grain This Year

St. Paul, Dec. 8.—(By United Press.)—The first step toward the elimination of the broker in the marketing of grain in the middle west was taken here today when, in the presence of several thousand midwest farmers, ground was broken for the half-million bushel co-operative elevator that will be built and ready by next year. The farmers have bought hundreds of big barges and will ship their own grain down the Mississippi River to New Orleans, thence to Europe. They plan to bring the price of grain far, far down.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison recently made a railroad trip across the continent.

"Their tracks are like the New York Central's, and that's about as near perfection, I suppose, as they make railroads."

Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old honest, "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, sciatica because your back is new! It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

WELL KNOWN EYE SPECIALISTS NOW HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubin, Harrisburg's leading eye specialists opened this morning at Woodward-McPherson's drug store, Clearfield, and will remain for ten days. This is a grand opportunity for you to have your eyes examined and glasses changed by the best known eye specialists in Pennsylvania. To avoid the rush we would suggest that you come in the morning as the morning crowds are not as large as the afternoon. PECULIAR FACTS ABOUT WELL KNOWN PEOPLE.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—When State Secretary von Jagow is not engaged upon a diplomatic note or something, he's a cartoonist and decorator. As you enter his big office you note a large clean blotter on his desk. As he talks he gradually covers the blotter with pencil sketches, humans, animals, all sorts of things. It is said that his servant brings him a new blotter for every visitor.

The American league still "reserves" the players who jumped from the Johnson circuit to the Federal league.

The New York State Athletic Commission has suspended Sandy Ferguson, the Chelsea heavyweight, for failure to get into condition for a scheduled bout.

Once again the report is out that the Cubs are trying to trade Heinie Zim. His poor batting last season is assigned as the reason for placing him on the block.

According to plans given out by President Gilmore, the Feds' new park in New York will be minus bleachers. Whaddya know about a ball park without bleachers?

Mike Glover sprung the surprise of the boxing season when he won the decision over Ted Lewis. Lewis had beaten Mike in a previous bout and had followed up the victory by winning everything in sight until his second meeting with Glover.

More than one American league manager is willing to help (?) Cleveland by taking over Ray Chapman and thus relieve the Indians from the necessity of paying a fancy salary to a star performer.

A walking craze has struck New York. Walking clubs are springing up in all parts of Gotham and "hikes" covering from 15 to 35 miles are conducted once a week.

Joe Stocker, the young Nebraska wrestler, continues to climb upward toward the championship. Promoters believe that Joe is now ripe for a match with Frank Gotch, if Frank cares to re-enter the grappling game.

Trading at Macon, the site selected by the Yankees, may be the means of ending the Donovan clan a real team. Two years ago the Braves, under the leadership of National league manager, traded at Macon and the Donovan clan a pound of smoking tobacco.

S. GE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound" ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair, and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it dardens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

THIS STATE IS SUPPORTING A MILLION UNPROFITABLE COWS

Few dairymen know the profits of their herds and fewer know the profitable and unprofitable cows. Almost a million dairy cows in Pennsylvania produce an average of only 4000 pounds of milk per year. In most localities in Pennsylvania cows that produce no more than this are unprofitable.

Extension circular No. 43 of the Pennsylvania State College school of agriculture is authority for the statement that in general two cows of equal size require the same amount of feed to maintain them or to keep them to a constant weight.

It should be remembered that feed in addition to the maintenance ration is necessary to produce milk. Figures published by the Pennsylvania Experiment station show that it costs about 10 cents a day to maintain a medium-size cow, 10 cents more for the first ten pounds of milk and 10 cents more for each additional ten pounds. In other words, a thirty-pound cow would produce milk at 40 cents a day while it would cost 60 cents to produce the same amount of milk by three cows of the ten pound sort.

A cow should be fed according to her size and the amount of milk she is producing. By knowing whether or not a cow responds to an increase in feed her maximum production can be ascertained.

Too often a cow that would produce a large amount of milk is not given a chance.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISON FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep our liver clean, almost every man's liver is spongy and full of poisons. It is the most important organ of the body and its health is the key to the health of the whole system. Your liver is the most neglected organ of the body. It knows its function is to keep the dam from overflowing with poisons. Most of the poisons in the body are in the liver, which is a great reservoir of chemicals which are used in the tissues, also in the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash out the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, bile and toxins; thus cleaning, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel. It can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, invigorates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

WOULD BE RECRUIT FINDS THERE IS NOTHING IN NAME

Decides to Leave Instead of Serving Thirty Days

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 8.—William Shakespeare, aged 39 years, no home, discovered there was nothing in a name when he applied for enlistment at the local recruiting office of the United States Marine Corps.

"Prithoe, kind sir, I beg a little nourishment at the indulgent hands of Uncle Sam, even though I must enlist. For three long and weary days have I trod your stretch of railroad track and I am grievously hungry," he told Sergeant George S. Fynmore, local recruiter for marines.

"Avaunt cat!," Fynmore replied, easily drifting into blank verse.

"The United States Marine Corps is no place for thee. We wouldst have sleek rounded men that sleep o' nights and work by day. Thou appearest to me as a glorified stringbean, or yet, a disappointed clothes-pole weighing ninety pounds for thy six feet of length. Also thou art Run's roving rambler and I am weary of your presence. Out upon thee. Get thee gone."

The would-be recruit with the poetic "monicker" refused to leave the recruiting station, insisting that he desired to serve his country and be fed, but, when the alternative of serving Monroe County for thirty days was brought to his attention, he concluded "discretion the better part of valor," and went away.

HOW WORDS COME TO PICTURE IDEAS

Philologists Can Read History From Words a Country Uses.

Sometimes words are borrowed bodily from another language. Sometimes a root word is borrowed, oftenest from the Latin or Greek, and an English ending given it. Again, we take two old words, join them together and make a new one. At first we separate them by the hyphen, but after a while that is left out, and the two are mingled as a single word. Then, we take a prefix, or a suffix, from some other tongue, and add it, after or before, and we have another new word. Or when a word is too long, we shorten it—because we English-speaking people are great for saving time.

Words Reveal History.
A philologist can read history from a word; as to when it first came into use, what caused it, the condition of the arts and sciences at the time, the state of literature, the wars going on, and many other things that he sees in it. A word orbs the civilization of its time as a dewdrop mirrors the heavens. Every maker of words is a poet, whether he knows it or not. The word "poet" comes from a Greek verb meaning "to make." Poets generally make words that seek to convey the idea by the sound.

Thousands of new words are defined in The New Universities Dictionary which we are now offering almost free to our readers. It ought to be in every home, office, workshop and study. It can be made the means of self-culture to a very large extent. The coupon offer elsewhere in this paper explains the terms upon which you may get it.

Books Ready Tomorrow.
The second coupon appears today, the third appears tomorrow, and then the doors open to the great educational flood. Don't wait for a later chance; eager readers may exhaust the limited supply.

The New Universities Dictionary is profusely illustrated in color and duotone. It has many full pages and double pages of magnificent color plates. Each is a work of art. The book is an ornament to any table or desk, and its presence stamps a home or office up to date, refined and educated. No man, woman, boy or girl can afford to be without it.

CRUSADE AGAINST USE OF FOREIGN WORDS IN GERMAN

More Than a Hundred Thousand Foreign Words in German Dictionary

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(By Mail).—The crusaders against the use of foreign words and languages in Germany are temporarily blocked. Ernest Brues, a Dusseldorf writer, has discovered that there are 100,000 foreign words in the German dictionary and it is calculated that it would take many years to get them out.

The wedding process, which began several months ago, is continued in some part of Germany every week. Last week a big meeting was held in the town hall of Dusseldorf. At the meeting were members of the General German Language Club and the President of the International Hotel Keeper's Club. All agreed that foreign words should not be used, especially on signs, but the Hotel Keepers won the point of having the word hotel, which is originally French, remain as a German word on the ground that 40 per cent. of the visitors to hotels here are foreigners. Finally the meeting adopted this resolution:

"This meeting, which is attended by representatives of Commerce and Trade for the District of Dusseldorf, considers it its duty to point out that foreign words still appearing on signs, labels, nameplates, etc., should be replaced as far as possible by good German words."

The phrase as far as possible was put in after Brues informed the meeting of the 100,000 enemies in the German language.

WOULD-BE RECRUIT FINDS THERE IS NOTHING IN NAME

Decides to Leave Instead of Serving Thirty Days

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 8.—William Shakespeare, aged 39 years, no home, discovered there was nothing in a name when he applied for enlistment at the local recruiting office of the United States Marine Corps.

"Prithes, kind sir, I beg a little nourishment at the indulgent hands of Uncle Sam, even though I must enlist. For three long and weary days have I trod your stretch of railroad track and I am grievously hungry," he told Sergeant George S. Fynmore, local recruiter for marines.

"Avant! catiff," Fynmore replied, easily drifting into blank verse. "The United States Marine Corps is no place for thee. We wouldst have sleek rounded men that sleep o' nights and work by day. Thou appearest to me as a glorified stringbean, or yet, a disappointed clothes-pole weighing ninety pounds for thy six feet of length. Also thou art Rum's roving rambler and I am aware of your presence. Out upon thee. Get thee gone."

The would-be recruit with the poetic "monacker" refused to leave the recruiting station, insisting that he desired to serve his country and be fed, but, when the alternative of serving Monroe County for thirty days was brought to his attention, he concluded "discretion the better part of valor," and went away.

HOW WORDS COME TO PICTURE IDEAS

Philologists Can Read History From Words a Country Uses.

Sometimes words are borrowed bodily from another language. Sometimes a root-word is borrowed, oftenest from the Latin or Greek, and an English ending given it. Again, we take two old words, join them together and make a new one. At first we separate them by the hyphen, but after a while that is left out, and the two are mingled as a single word. Then, we take a prefix, or a suffix, from some other tongue, and add it, after or before, and we have another new word. Or when a word is too long, we shorten it—because we English-speaking people are great for saving time.

Words Reveal History.

A philologist can read history from a word; as to when it first came into use, what caused it, the condition of the arts and sciences at the time, the state of literature, the wars going on, and many other things that he sees in it. A word orbs the civilization of its time as a dewdrop mirrors the heavens. Every maker of words is a poet, whether he knows it or not. The word "poet" comes from a Greek verb meaning "to make." Poets generally make words that seek to convey the idea by the sound.

Thousands of new words are defined in The New Universities Dictionary which we are now offering almost free to our readers. It ought to be in every home, office, workshop and study. CRUSADE AGAINST USE OF FOREIGN WORDS IN GERMAN

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(By Mail.)—The crusaders against the use of foreign words and languages in Germany are temporarily blocked. Ernest Brues, a Dusseldorf writer, has discovered that there are 100,000 foreign words in the German dictionary and it is calculated that it would take many years to get them out.

The wedding process, which began several months ago, is continued in some part of Germany every week. Last week a big meeting was held in the town hall of Dusseldorf. At the meeting were members of the General German Language Club and the President of the International Hotel Keepers' Club. All agreed that foreign words should not be used, especially on signs, but the Hotel Keepers won the point of having the word hotel, which is originally French, remain as a German word on the ground that 40 per cent. of the visitors to hotels here are foreigners.

Finally the meeting adopted this resolution:

"This meeting, which is attended by representatives of Commerce and Trade for the District of Dusseldorf, considers it its duty to point out that foreign words still appearing on signs, labels, nameplates, etc., should be replaced as far as possible by good German words."

The phrase as far as possible was put in after Brues informed the meeting of the 100,000 enemies in the German language.

Bulgarian Attacks Repulsed By Allies With Heavy Losses

Bodies of Dead Soldiers Lie Among Red Holly Berries From Forest Near Strumnitz

COLD WEATHER INCREASES WAR HORROR

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPPARD
United Press Staff Correspondent

Salonika, Dec. 6th (Delayed)—A furious battle is being fought on the Christmas holly wood near Strumnitz. The Bulgarians have been attacking the Anglo-French positions since early Saturday. Their attacks thus far have been repulsed with heavy losses.

I visited the French and British fronts along the Serbian and Bulgarian frontiers Friday night and Saturday. The mountainous hills were topped with batteries. The big British guns were sending shells screaming eight miles across hills a mile high. The big hills shook with a dull roar. Everywhere the light artillery seemed superior.

The allied losses have been comparatively light. Lying among the red holly berries are the bodies of Bulgarians, French and a few British covered with blood. The Bulgarians broke through several times in wild charges screaming like demons. In sudden clashes with French zouaves they met their fate. In three distinct encounters they were caught by the French cold steel, and either stabbed to death or fled back to their lines at the mercy of the British guns.

Extreme cold weather is increasing the horrors of war on the Strumnitz sector. Several men on outpost duty have been found frozen to death. The wounded suffer agonies if they are not dragged to the rear at once. At night it is so cold that eggs burst through their shells and packs of howling wolves howl the hills despite the pounding of the big guns.

Back of the firing line the whole region has a ghastly look. The soldiers' tents, their wagons, automobiles and horses are decorated with sprigs of holly. Overhead fly flocks of wild ducks. They pass unharmed the soldiers having been ordered not to shoot them. I spent several hours beside a soldiers' camp fire in the Strumnitz region Saturday. French soldiers sat about talking of past Christmas in France and wondering what Christmas will be like at home this year. To a home sick American lad this was refined torture. "Damn the holly," he exclaimed. "I would like to be home." His body they told me the next day was one of those found among the holly shrubs.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION LAST WEEK FINE SUCCESS

Center M. E. Church Oldest Methodist Church in County

The celebration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Centre Methodist church which was an event of last week was one of interest and success through and can only be realized in this respect by those who participated in the several services.

Centre as a Methodist church has a history dating back to the year 1815 when it was made a part of the Erie and Erie circuit which makes it the oldest active Methodist church also the landmark of Methodism in Clearfield county, and one of the results of the celebration was a determination on the part of the friends of the church to maintain it as such, not disregarding the religious requirements of the surrounding community.

There was a general response to an invitation extended which made possible the reunion of a large number of former pastors, members and friends of the church. Much could be said of the good things which were said and done, but time and space will not permit. Each service was brim full of blessings and encouragements and much was done to inspire the present generation on towards a more glorious future for the church. Sunday the 6th was designated as a repetition of the early days of the church. The morning service consisted of an old fashion love feast followed by baptism and an inspiring sermon by one of the older ministers of the church. A large number of people brought their offerings with them and the newly renovated basement was placed at their disposal. The devotional services of the afternoon and evening were exceptionally impressive and inspiring.

TEMPERANCE FORCE OF COUNTY HOLD ANNUAL SESSIONS

Temperance League Formed to Make Fight Against Liquor Next Year

Dr. Buckingham of Mahaffey Elected President of New Organization—Other Officers Elected and Committees Chosen.

Yesterday the annual convention of the temperance forces of the county was held in the Y. M. C. A. building on Second street at which meeting a permanent organization, called the Temperance league, was formed, the purpose of which, as stated by the temporary chairman, Rev. R. C. Peters, president of the Clearfield County Anti-saloon league, is to organize the Temperance forces throughout the county, to secure delegates to vote for the local option law and to remonstrate against the granting of licenses at the next license court.

At the morning session, Rev. C. A. Brant, of Altoona, District Superintendent of the Anti-saloon league, delivered an address before the convention on "The Achievements of the Temperance Workers." In part Mr. Brant said "That every generation and age has some peculiar work of its own to perform. The following problems of this country since its foundation, have had to be solved by the citizens, settlement, organization, slavery and the abolition of slavery and finally temperance, which is the work of the present generation. After solving the temperance problem, comes the work for the human race."

In order to more scientifically carry on their work, the temperance forces have formed the Prohibition party, the W. C. T. U., the Anti-saloon league and now a Temperance league, which combines all three into a single organization. Of these the W. C. T. U. has accomplished the greatest work as they have been instrumental in making a subject the study of the efforts of alcohol in the public schools of the country.

At the afternoon session the new Temperance league of Clearfield county was formed and officers elected. Rev. Peters of the Eleventh street M. E. church presided at the meeting.

The following officers for the Temperance league were elected: President, Dr. H. W. Buckingham, of Mahaffey; First vice president, J. S. Reitz, of DuBois; Second vice president, J. M. Laurie, of Windom; Third vice president, J. L. Weaver, of Burnside; secretary, Wellington V. Clark, of Mahaffey; treasurer, G. Chas. Hill, of Clearfield.

The following committees were appointed: Nominations, A. L. Moulton, of DuBois; Rev. O. B. Poulson, of Wallacetown; Mrs. Trexler, of DuBois.

Constitutions, Mrs. Garner, of Curwensville; Oscar Mitchell, Esq., of Clearfield; W. Irving Lewis, secretary Y. M. C. A., Clearfield.

Organization of Districts, H. A. Reed, of Mahaffey; Fred Spencer, of DuBois; John McMurphy, of Clearfield.

Finance, James Mitchell, Rev. Irvin, James Mills, of Ramsey.

Legislative candidates, J. F. Reese, of DuBois; Dr. Buckingham, of Mahaffey and Rev. O. B. Poulson, of Wallacetown.

FOUR REA BROTHERS FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT TUESDAY

Case of J. J. Lehman and Mother Charged With Inhuman Treatment of Boy

James Realle of DuBois Charged With Larceny, had Hearing Yesterday—No Verdict Rendered Yet.

Yesterday afternoon in Criminal court, the jury found guilty, Austin Rea, John Rea, Enos Rea and Park Rea, four brothers of Knox township, near Boardman, of assault and battery. The brothers were brought into court by Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Coder, neighbors of the boys.

The indictment charges the boys with trespassing on Coder's land after he had ordered them not to use a path which they were accustomed to use. One evening in September, the brothers were going down this path and were ordered back by the owner, but the boys refused to obey and a fight was started in which Coder was badly beaten and also Mrs. Coder, who had come to her husband's aid was slightly injured.

The case was one of the most important assault and battery cases which has come up before the local court in recent years and it took nearly the entire day to argue it. The defendants have not yet been sentenced by Judge Bell.

Last evening the case of Frank Reilly, charged with stealing about $85 belonging to a man by the name of Powers, from a box car, in which two men lived, near DuBois, was brought up. The case occurred last October. The defendant claims that he found the money on the car floor, and when arrested offered to give one half of it to Powers, but Powers refused to settle in this manner. The verdict has not yet been brought in.

This afternoon, J. Josiah Lehman and his mother, of Monarch Mines, will be brought before the court, charged with cruel and inhuman treatment to the three year old son of Mr. Lehman. The case was brought to court by J. W. Beach, humane agent of Pennsylvania and Mrs. Helen Davidson, who saw the child being cruelly treated, on November 15. The child, beside numerous bruises on all parts of the body, was scalped, leaving a sore the size of a man's hand on his head, and also injured in the back ad kidneys to such an extent that the boy can hardly walk.

It has developed that the boy's mother and father separated while living in Illinois, before coming to this county, leaving the son in care of the father. Jealousy between the grandmother and the father over the custody of the boy, has been given as the reason for the treatment, both grandmother and father taking their spite out on the three year old.

It is expected that the two defendants will be dealt with according to law and severely punished for their actions. The child at present is at the Children's Aid society home on Spruce street, where his injuries are receiving the proper medical attention.

SECRETARY M'ADOO GIVES ANNUAL REPORT TO CONGRESS

Financial Resources Greatest in History and Banking System Greatest in World

Domestic Demand For Steel Greater Than Foreign Demand—Income Tax may be Increased on Smaller Incomes.

Washington, Dec. 8.—(By United Press).—A sweeping declaration of American financial stability was made by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in his annual report to congress today.

"Our financial resources are the greatest in our history and our banking system, through the operation of the Federal Reserve system is the strongest in the world," he said. Commenting on business conditions the secretary declared one of the most encouraging features was that the demand for iron and steel products is heavier from domestic than from foreign sources.

Among recommendations made is one that persons having a gross income of $3,000 or more a year shall pay an income tax. The law at present provides for net incomes of that amount, leaving it to the individual to determine whether his net income is $3,000 or more. The report does not mention other income tax law changes suggested by the secretary in a recent statement.

Indicating the fight to be made on the so-called pork measure, the omnibus public buildings bill, the secretary advances arguments for its discontinuance. He cites bad public building conditions in many cities.

He supports the idea of government treatment of drug addicts by the Public Health Service or other government agency, and suggests that the Harrison anti-narcotic act be made more stringent.

Concerning the Public Health Service, the secretary urges upon congress the necessity for more commissioned medical officers and larger public health field investigation. He points out that the United States is the only country which does not provide for the isolation and care of lepers. There are approximately 146 lepers in the United States, he states, and congress is urged to pass a bill introduced at the last congress, for a national leprosyarium.

Plans are being worked out by the Coast Guard and Navy, the secretary says, to make the former organization a valuable auxiliary to the navy in time of war.

The secretary also calls attention to the saving effected by the treasury's innovation of shipping money by parcel post rather than by express. He recommends increasing the salaries of assistant secretaries from $5,000 to $7,500. The present salary, the secretary points out, makes it necessary for men of the caliber desired to sacrifice themselves financially to the position.

COMMUNITY CENTER OF FUTURE WILL BE THE RURAL CHURCH

Gifford Pinchot and President Wilson Expected to Speak Before Conference

Rural Churches to be Strengthened by New Plan Proposed at Convention—Ohio to be Experimental Field For New Church Reform.

(United Press Correspondence.)

Columbus, Dec. 8.—To make the rural church in America not only the religious, but the social, commercial and agricultural center for the farmer and his wife and children, is the object of a conference here today between Gifford Pinchot, agricultural educators, churchmen, farmers and others meeting with the Federal Council of Churches and the National Commission on Church and Rural Life. President Wilson is expected to address the convention December 10, the last day, discussing his ideas of rural credits, one of the big questions with which congress is expected to deal this year.

Gifford Pinchot, who is chairman of the commission, in his address before the conference today, said in part:

"I believe we stand today on the threshold of a great movement which will bring back to the church in the country and smaller towns the greater power for good it used to have. I do not contend that the church should take the functions of the Grange or the agricultural school, but I believe the failure of the country churches, through their ministers, to get into productive touch with the work and needs of the country people is one of the fundamental reasons for the present weakness of the country church. Good farms, good roads, good schools are necessary to the success of churches and active churches should assist powerfully in securing such material improvements."

"We are not here to advocate the weakening or strengthening of any one denomination at the expense of another; nor have we any theory to exploit or any ax to grind. We merely seek the truth about conditions, together with remedies that are both wise and practicable."

Ohio has been selected as a field for the first intensive rural church reform campaign. A survey by the state shows that 800 of the 5,000 Ohio country churches have been abandoned, one third are growing, while two thirds have ceased to grow or are dying. Eighty-three per cent. of them have a membership of less than 100 each. Only six per cent. have individual preachers, the others having from one half to one sixth of some minister's time.

The plan is to combine the strength of these country churches and establish at the logical points, community churches which, in addition to being houses of worship on Sunday, will be expected to be active in promoting good roads, scientific farming, public health and sanitation, temperance, public recreation, community beautification, better schools, library organization and other things of that sort.

It is the belief of the leaders of this movement that the average country minister is underpaid and often needs wider practical experience and training. Among those on the program today were:

Paris, Dec. 8. (By United Press).—That England, against the wishes of her allies, favors the withdrawal of the expeditionary forces from the Balkans was strongly hinted during today's session of the allied war council. A high French official said in this statement: "If England persists alone in favoring leaving only the remainder of the allied forces to continue to aid the Serbs."

Sir John French, British commander in chief, is understood to have brought the suggestion that the Balkan campaign be abandoned to the allied war council which held its meeting today. It is said to have met with opposition not only from General Joffre, but from other representatives. It has been known in France for some time that the land was far from satisfied with the situation in the Balkans. Several members in English parliament called the Salonika expedition useless, but that it arrived too late and the number of troops was too small to be of any aid to the Serbians.

PEACE PARTY WILL OPPOSE OF PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

Aboard Peace Ship Oscar II—The Wireless to Cape Race; Dec. 8.—The Ford peace voyagers will wireless President Wilson their opinion of the message he read to congress yesterday as soon as they can reach an agreement. Radical peace advocates are urging that the peace party denounce the President's preparedness program and assail him as a reactionary. The conservatives are opposed to criticizing the President.

There are symptoms that Ford is converting some of the skepticism on board to his peace program. Ford has broadened the scope of his activities. He says that he is determined to end not only the war in Europe, but industrial warfare. Details of his plan are being awaited with interest.

REPORTED VICTIM OF SUB ARRIVES AT ALEXANDRIA

Officials Believe Ship of Similar Name Was the Victim

New York, Dec. 8. (By United Press).—The Standard Oil Company Communipaw reported in Rome dispatches to have been sunk by a submarine, arrived at Alexandria on Sunday, according to a cablegram received by the New York office today. The cable was signed by the Standard Oil agent at Alexandria. It stated merely that the steamer had arrived. It was said at the local office, and gave no intimation that she had been attacked by a submarine.

Shipping circles believe either that the Communipaw was attacked and succeeded in making port or that another ship of a similar name was a victim of the submarine. It was pointed out that the Communipaw may have escaped after first sending out wireless signals that she was being attacked by a submarine.

Washington, Dec. 8. (By United Press).—The state department received a cablegram from Ambassador Page at Rome saying a vessel believed to be the Communipaw has been torpedoed and sunk. Explanations concerning the attack, the position of the Communipaw and the submarine which made the attack were lacking. No details were given. American consuls throughout the Mediterranean region were expected to report details of the vessel's disappearance as soon as possible the state department announced today.

If Henry blows in that million refreathering the look out for war prices in Ford's.

If this weather keeps up, Old Saint Nick will have to abandon the sled in favor of a jitney bus.

You gotta hand it to the fellow who can break with the girl between now and December 26.

If the President reasoned along the lines of cause and effect, he would put a per capita tax on Democrats for the cause of the treasury deficit.

Most people check off their obligation to charity when they drop a dime into a beggar's hat. Slander when that ceremony becomes a neighborly duty.

The man who doesn't need to advertise when business is good is the same identical chap who can't afford to advertise when business is rotten. Think it over, think it over.

Democrats would rather not be asked what condition the country would be in now if the European war had not come to the rescue with the makings of a prosperity wave.

THE COMMON SENSE OF IT

Have you ever been in the Christmas week rush at a department store or any other big store, when it seems that half the city is trying frantically to crowd into a few short days the shopping which with a little forethought could have been extended over almost the entire month of December? It is the most distressing sight imaginable. Men, women and children, each imbued with the idea that he or she is in a hurry to get nowhere in particular, an idea seemingly habitual with city people, clashing because a stoop-shouldered and wearied clerk cannot give instant attention and faultless service. Normally sane people who are really in no hurry, seem suddenly to lose their poise as the nervous ones of the crowd exclaim and fidget, and join heedlessly in the mad scramble to buy, buy, buy, gifts which are to be bestowed with a sentimental feeling which takes no account of the distress caused in their purchase. From a study of individual procrastination, the final scene develops into one of the mob psychology, in which Madam Vere de Vere offers no striking contrast as to method to Maggie O'Hara, with her week's wages clutched nervously to her bosom.

Clearfield's salespeople and storekeepers are hopeful that such conditions will not prevail here. There is time in plenty for Christmas shopping, and this year the offerings of the stores are in wonderful variety for early buyers. As the time grows shorter for completing shopping lists, the opportunity narrows for getting the things you want. Therefore, the common sense of it is to shop now, for the sake of your own satisfaction only. We are not disposed to consider the overworked people who will have to attend to your wants during the last days of the season.

Shop early—shop NOW.

ENGLAND OPENS TRAINING SCHOOL FOR WAITERS

(United Press Correspondence.)
London, Nov. 2.—(By Mail.)—The war is going to work a revolution in the status of the waiter, according to G. B. Sims, secretary of the British Hotel Restaurant and Club Employers Society. Heretofore London has depended largely upon aliens for table service. While the French and Italians furnished some, the Germans and Austrians were responsible most of it.

To replace these the society has opened a training school for waiters. There has always been a shortage of English waiters in the past and it was this that brought about an influx of foreigners. By changing the whole status of the waiter and making the occupation a more desirable one, the society hopes to secure enough English followers of the vocation to keep out aliens following the close of the war.

Mid-West Farmers Will Market Their Own Grain This Year

St. Paul, Dec. 8.—(By United Press.)—The first step toward the elimination of the broker in the marketing of grain in the middle west was taken here today when, in the presence of several thousand mid-west farmers, ground was broken for the half-million bushel co-operative elevator that will be built and ready by next year. The farmers have bought hundreds of big barges and will ship their own grain down the Mississippi River to New Orleans, thence to Europe. They plan to bring the price of grain far, far down.

S. GE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound" ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair, and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it dardens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

THIS STATE IS SUPPORTING A MILLION UNPROFITABLE COWS

Few dairymen know the profits of their herds and fewer know the profitable and unprofitable cows. Almost a million dairy cows in Pennsylvania produce an average of only 4000 pounds of milk per year. In most localities in Pennsylvania cows that produce no more than this are unprofitable.

Extension circular No. 43 of the Pennsylvania State College school of agriculture is authority for the statement that in general two cows of equal size require the same amount of feed to maintain them or to keep them to a constant weight.

It should be remembered that feed in addition to the maintenance ration is necessary to produce milk. Figures published by the Pennsylvania Experiment station show that it costs about 10 cents a day to maintain a medium-size cow, 10 cents more for the first ten pounds of milk and 10 cents more for each additional ten pounds. In other words, a thirty-pound cow would produce milk at 40 cents a day while it would cost 60 cents to produce the same amount of milk by three cows of the ten pound sort.

A cow should be fed according to her size and the amount of milk she is producing. By knowing whether or not a cow responds to an increase in feed her maximum production can be ascertained. Too often a cow that would produce a large amount of milk is not given a chance.

Sallow skin, watery eyes, all denote a diseased liver. Your liver is the most neglected organ of the body and its health is the key to the health of the whole system. Your liver is the most neglected organ of the body and its health is the key to the health of the whole system.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash out the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel. It can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, invigorates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

WILLIAM PITT KELLOGG 85 YEARS OLD.

Washington, Dec. 8.—(By United Press.)—The National Rivers and Harbors Congress is not engaged in the promotion of "pork." The rivers and harbors development of the country is necessary to prosperity. The usual appropriations are expected to be made by congress this year. Instead of attempting to save money on this end congress should appreciate that true preparedness is linked with industrial prosperity which depends upon good waterways.

These were points made by Senator Joseph E. Randall, of Louisiana, president of the congress, in his annual address before the convention of that organization which opened today.

The first day's program two major issues emphasized by the speakers. The first was that waterways are essential to a rational preparedness plan; the second that co-operation in the development of railroads and highways as well as waterways was to the betterment of conditions in all three and the country at large.

Senator Randall pointed out that everything which goes into the rivers and harbors bill before congress must run the gauntlet of the army engineers and of the Rivers and Harbors and the Commerce committee.

"The reputations of these men are slandered when it is said that this bill involves the distribution of pork," he said.

Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce discussed cheap transportation; the secretary pointed out the saving by barge transportation, and declared he favored economical waterway development.

J. Hampton Moore, president of the Atlantic Deepwaterways Association, spoke on "Common Sense Preparedness" and declared that waterways must be developed so that in case of war communication between cities would not be broken by blockades, and industries would be built up to a point where they would be able to stand the strain of war.

Paul W. Brown, editor of the St. Louis Republic, spoke on "Rivers and Harbors," showing that in Europe where canals feed and are fed straight by railroads, both have benefited. H. L. Whittemore, of the Suto Car Company of Ardmore, Pa., spoke on "The Motor Truck in General Transportation."

Washington, Dec. 8.—(By United Press.)—William Pitt Kellogg, former United States senator from Louisiana and one of the most widely known men in American public life during his active political career of more than a quarter of a century, celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday today. By birth a New Englander, Mr. Kellogg was for a time a citizen of Illinois, lived in Nebraska, and then went to New Orleans at the close of the war, where he became in turn collector of the port, United States senator, governor of Louisiana and representative in congress.

For many years he was the recognized Republican leader in Louisiana and was a delegate to every Republican national convention from 1860 to 1896. Mr. Kellogg retired from politics some years ago to give his attention to his extensive business and financial interests. He spends the most of his time in this city, though still retaining a residence in New Orleans.

They require no earth, but they have an awful thirst.

HOW WORDS COME TO PICTURE IDEAS

Philologists Can Read History From Words a Country Uses.

Sometimes words are borrowed bodily from another language. Sometimes a root word is borrowed, oftenest from the Latin or Greek, and an English ending given it. Again, we take two old words, join them together and make a new one. At first we separate them by the hyphen, but after a while that is left out, and the two are mingled as a single word. Then, we take a prefix, or a suffix, from some other tongue, and add it, after or before, and we have another new word. Or when a word is too long, we shorten it—because we English-speaking people are great for saving time.

Words Reveal History. A philologist can read history from a word; as to when it first came into use, what caused it, the condition of the arts and sciences at the time, the state of literature, the wars going on, and many other things that he sees in it. A word orbs the civilization of its time as a dewdrop mirrors the heavens. Every maker of words is a poet, whether he knows it or not. The word "poet" comes from a Greek verb meaning "to make." Poets generally make words that seek to convey the idea by the sound.

Thousands of new words are defined in The New Universities Dictionary which we are now offering almost free to our readers. It ought to be in every home, office, workshop and study. It can be made the means of self-culture to a very large extent. The coupon offer elsewhere in this paper explains the terms upon which you may get it.

CRUSADE AGAINST USE OF FOREIGN WORDS IN GERMAN

More Than a Hundred Thousand Foreign Words in German Dictionary

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(By Mail.)—The crusaders against the use of foreign words and languages in Germany are temporarily blocked. Ernest Brues, a Dusseldorf writer, has discovered that there are 100,000 foreign words in the German dictionary and it is calculated that it would take many years to get them out.

The wedding process, which began several months ago, is continued in some part of Germany every week. Last week a big meeting was held in the town hall of Dusseldorf. At the meeting were members of the General German Language Club and the President of the International Hotel Keeper's Club. All agreed that foreign words should not be used, especially on signs, but the Hotel Keepers won the point of having the word hotel, which is originally French, remain as a German word on the ground that 40 per cent. of the visitors to hotels here are foreigners. Finally the meeting adopted this resolution:

"This meeting, which is attended by representatives of Commerce and Trade for the District of Dusseldorf, considers it its duty to point out that foreign words still appearing on signs, labels, nameplates, etc., should be replaced as far as possible by good German words."

The phrase as far as possible was put in after Brues informed the meeting of the 100,000 enemies in the German language.

WOULD-BE RECRUIT FINDS THERE IS NOTHING IN NAME

Decides to Leave Instead of Serving Thirty Days

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 8.—William Shakespeare, aged 39 years, no home, discovered there was nothing in a name when he applied for enlistment at the local recruiting office of the United States Marine Corps.

"Prithes, kind sir, I beg a little nourishment at the indulgent hands of Uncle Sam, even though I must enlist. For three long and weary days have I trod your stretch of railroad track and I am grievously hungry," he told Sergeant George S. Fynmore, local recruiter for marines.

"Avaunt catfish," Fynmore replied, easily drifting into blank verse.

"The United States Marine Corps is no place for thee. We wouldst have sleek rounded men that sleep o' nights and work by day. Thou appearest to me as a glorified stringbean, or yet, a disappointed clothes-pole weighing ninety pounds for thy six feet of length. Also thou art Rum's roving rambler and I am aware of your presence. Out upon thee. Get thee gone."

The would-be recruit with the poetic "monacker" refused to leave the recruiting station, insisting that he desired to serve his country and be fed, but, when the alternative of serving Monroe County for thirty days was brought to his attention, he concluded "discretion the better part of valor," and went away.
